KEN REEVES, who was also on stage in A Midsummer - Night's Dream and Anne of the Thousand Days, is in charge of sound.

BOB LEE will be the first of the actors to speak. The role of Father Drobney is his first performance in acting at Sumter Little Theatre and his first in community theatre. He has played in the orchestra for Cole and in every musical since. He is also the current chairman of the production Board.

JENNIFER DEGENHARDT is the props assistant for the show. She participated in the Sumter Little Theatre Young People's Theatre workshop also. She was on stage in Bremen Town Musicians.

BOB WALLICK portrays Ambassador Magee. He has worked backstage and appeared on stage in You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running. He has directed three shows for Sumter Little Theatre including Chapter Two.

DICK STUCKEY, who plays the Sultan, has appeared in East Carolina Opera productions and in shows at Sumter Little Theatre such as The Amorous Flea. He directed My three Angels for Sumter Little Theatre.

LARRY STOY as Walter Hollander continues a long association with Sumter Little Theatre. He is a veteran of many shows including The King and I. He recently directed one of the plays in Four on A Garden.

GRETCHEN DEGENHARDT does all phases of theatre work --behind stage as well as on stage. This veteran has appeared in many Sumter Little Theatre productions including First Monday in October, and she directed Blithe Spirit last fall.

DEAN LONG as Axel Magee is playing his fifteenth role on the Sumter Little Theatre stage. He was last seen in Anne of the Thousand Days.
